

TERRIBLE FALL OF AGED PAINTER

Amos Phillips Thrown From Swaying Ladder.

PAINTING HIS OWN HOUSE.

Wall Knows Incident of Newell Street Received Injuries Which Will Probably Be Fatal—Was Carrying Heavy Ladder While Climbing Another.

Amos Phillips, a painter by occupation who is approaching his 70th birthday anniversary, fell from a ladder while ascending to the roof of his own house, 20 Newell street, shortly before 10 o'clock this morning, and the injuries he received are so serious a nature that there is little, if any, hope of his recovery. He is attended by Dr. A. R. Grant at his home.

Mr. Phillips had been doing considerable painting about the house and at the time of the accident had begun operations on the roof. Placing a 25-foot extension ladder against the east side of the building, Mr. Phillips took a shorter, but quite heavy ladder in one hand and began to climb. The base of the ladder on which he was ascending to the roof was, of necessity, placed on sloping ground, but Mr. Phillips took precaution, which years of similar work had taught him, and burroughed small holes through the sod in which to place the legs of the ladder and keep them from slipping. This time the safeguard failed, however, and when Mr. Phillips had reached a height of many feet one side of the ladder sprang from its moorings and allowed the entire ladder to sway.

The aged man was thrown and with him went the heavy ladder which he was carrying. His wife was in the house at the time and hurried out to aid her injured husband. He was not unconscious, but displayed evidence of very serious wounds.

Upon the arrival of Dr. Grant Mr. Phillips was moved into the house and an examination of his condition made, revealing a fracture of the spine, two broken ribs and other internal injuries of a precarious nature. So critical was his condition considered that Dr. Grant called to take a statement from the man. He said that he was alone when the accident happened and attributed the cause to the slipping of the ladder's base.

Mr. Phillips advanced age, 69 years, will operate against his recovery, although the injuries he sustained are so extensive that it would be difficult for any man to survive them. He is quite well known in Utica.

Car and Cab Collide.

A street car and one of the West-Central Express Company's cabs collided near the corner of Genesee and Catherine streets early this morning. There were a number of people in the cab at the time, but no one was injured. The rig had just turned into Genesee street from Catherine and in order to avoid the pile of earth in the middle there by the side of the gas main, the driver was compelled to pass near the street car tracks. Just as he rounded the corner a car came down the grade from the Genesee street bridge, striking one of the horses attached to the cab, cutting him badly. The hub of the rear wheel of the car, which was about the height of the horse and wheel and springs were broken.

Retail Butchers Association.

The Retail Butchers Association held a meeting last evening in Arcadium Temple. Since the dissection in the case caused by the premium stamp agitation, however, the association has not been as powerful or as effective as before. Some of the most interesting things discussed generally. Now it is hoped that these members can be enrolled again and that in the union there may be more strength than there has been. President Griffith said at the close of the meeting last night that the prospects were favorable.

The Plumbers' Club.

The Plumbers' Union will hold their annual banquet at Buchanan's grove in Deerfield to-morrow. The Rome local union has accepted an invitation to be present and the same will be extended to the other local unions. Other interesting sports will be features of the day's doings, and Michael McGraw, president of the Eastern League of Plumbers, will be the guest of honor. The banquet will be held at the club house and refreshments were served and a social good time was enjoyed.

At Casino Park.

On the vaudeville bill at Casino Park this week there are four artists. Laura Marjorie and Emma Burt are vocalists who will entertain. An orchestra of five pieces is very pleasing. Mackey & Mack are comedians and they have several laughable sketches. The entertainment is of a high class and is an entertaining. Besides the show there is dancing every afternoon and evening. On Labor day there will be special attractions. The show will be fireworks and balloon ascensions. The admission is 10 cents, with ladies and children free. Take city line cars.

JOINS OPERA COMPANY.

Robert Smock Known in This City During Career at Chicago.

To-day's New York Herald has the following regarding Robert Smock, who was at one time a member of the faculty of the Elliott School of Music:

"Girouard of the footlights has cast the choir of the church another sweet singer. The choir of the church at Hartford this afternoon to begin its season's tour on the road with it will go Mr. Robert Smock, recently tenor at All Angels' church at West End Road, who had left Hartford and hereafter will be numbered among the actors.

Mr. Smock will add a representative of a distinguished family to the stage. He came originally from Paterson, N. J., and was a nephew of the late Vice President Garret A. Hobart, for whom he was named. He has had a success in church singing, in concert work and in operatic. Mr. Smock has long cherished an ambition to go on the stage. After his first success soon after he came to New York, 18 years ago. He was engaged as a member of the cast of 'Leonard', which the composer, T. Pearsall Thorne, put on in New York, 1885.

The failure of that venture, however, turned him back to the church. He has since built up an excellent reputation. He has been in the business for 15 years and has been the tenor at All Angels', and has appeared in concert and operatic in New York and various other Eastern cities. He had a large class of students also.

Mr. Smock determined recently, however, to return to his first avocation, and during the summer he was engaged in singing 'San Toy', and they asked him to take the juvenile role in that production. Mr. Smock, after due consideration, accepted their offer.

He has resigned his position at All Angels', refused several engagements for oratorio work and a few days ago closed up his studio at 222 West 23rd street. He has rejoined the company hereafter to find his fortune on the stage. He has rehearsed during the last few weeks with the 'San Toy' company.

Mr. Smock has a robust figure and a robust tenor voice and the church's loss will be the stage's gain.

PARADE ABANDONED.

Labor Organizations Will Not Walk on Labor Day.

At a meeting held last evening of the presidents of the various unions comprising the Trades Assembly Committee it was decided to hold no parade on Labor day, the following resolution being adopted: "Whereas, a number of organizations are under heavy expense in assisting their brethren in various parts of the country; and

"Whereas, the expense attending a Labor day parade could be better utilized in assisting others who are struggling for the rights of labor; be it resolved that this committee decide not to parade this Labor day, and advise the respective organizations to use their best efforts to assist the coal miners in their struggle against the coal kings and their attempts to rule by injunction."

For the past 17 years the arrival of Labor day has been signalled by a parade. The reason generally advanced for the abandonment of the proposed parade on this occasion is that the members have to consider the cost of the parade as too expensive, and prefer to lay aside the amount that would be expended in such display to form a fund for the erection of a labor temple.

POLITICIANS TAKING A DAY OFF

But Gossip Continues at Long Distance.

MR. LEWIS AND MR. WILLARD

Interest Just at Present Centers on the Congressional Situation, Suggesting That Mr. Sherman Holds an Appointment—Congressional "Dark Horse" in Training.

Not a politician was in sight this morning. The usual haunts in the city were deserted and what gossip was in the wing came floating in the hot, muggy August air from a distance. It was merely gossip, and not much at that. The most interesting item was that Attorney General Davies and Chairman Russell & Johnson relinquished their quarters at Berg's Hotel last yesterday afternoon and went home to rest a brief while and get breath for the next contest that is before them—for the Republican nomination of Mr. Davies for Supreme Court Justice for this judicial district.

What little "news" there was from unauthenticated sources" was mostly in the form of political gossip. The "gossip" was to the effect that W. E. Lewis' candidacy is developing well. Senator Willard, it is said, is banking on the support of the "dark horse" candidate, Mr. Lewis or Mr. Willard is in town to-day. The organization is said to be taking no sides, preferring to see what strength each candidate will have in the hands of the delegates. The third candidate, Mr. Coggeshall, is a candidate in the usual sense. He is reported, is looking "higher up" the political ladder than the other two.

The Congressional situation is the most interesting. It is said, on "unimpeachable authority," that Congressman Sherman is ready to accept the nomination if Mr. Davies does not accept it, but that President Roosevelt isn't ready yet to choose between Senator Platt's choice, Congressman Sherman and Mr. Sherman, who is backed by powerful influences. But as Mr. Platt is determined to have Mr. Ray appointed, the gossips have it that the importance and emolument with his present position, if he wishes to relinquish it.

Then, who will fill the shoes of the hour? Report has it that a "dark horse" is in training for the nomination—but who, deponent saith not. There is a promise to be developed, but the weather has quite gone out of season.

IN TOWN OF KIRKLAND.

According to Mr. Dempsey There is Democratic Crossroads There.

The Hon. James L. Dempsey of Clinton, in conversation with a reporter to-day regarding the political situation in Kirkland:

"I am informed on reliable authority that a saloonkeeper of this village was at Frank Springs, Thursday, August 28, and that while there he declared that he had money to use and that he was going to have Republicans as well as Democrats in the race. He proposed to use all means, no matter what the nature, to carry the town of Kirkland in the Democratic column."

"I am also told that snap calls in outside districts of some of the towns in this county have been made by the Democrats of the county from attending the caucuses, the distance being so far across some of the towns. One of the most interesting items is that of the town of Kirkland. I am informed that some of Mr. Potter's combined friends are soliciting Mr. Flanagan and Mr. Kelllogg to be candidates in carrying their for his and Potter's interests."

STRIKERS IN EARNEST.

Temporary Organization for New Company Election—Mach Subscribed.

The employees of the Utica Fire Alarm & Telegraph Company, who have been on strike since last Saturday, visited the plant yesterday, secured their tools and other belongings and left the place. The meeting was held at 11 o'clock at Labor Temple and effected a temporary organization for the company they are to start. At the meeting the Rev. H. H. Ferguson was chairman and a multi-ling committee began to canvass the city for subscriptions. It is planned to capitalize the new company $50,000.

At yesterday's meeting, J. E. Eichmeyer, the electrical director of the Fire Alarm & Telegraph Company, who has designed some of the largest fire alarm systems in the city, was chosen secretary and superintendent of the proposed plant. A. J. Potter, who was with the company 27 years, and of the district was appointed secretary for a number of the works. The product of the company will include, according to the intentions, magnetos and telephone supplies, switches, etc., and will be of the finer grades of electrical apparatus.

The men will meet Saturday, September 6, to hear from the committees on suits and soliciting.

"Share Acres."

Unquestionably the most successful of the late James A. Herma's plays is "Share Acres," which is assuredly in the pastoral field its stately beauty overshadows all its prototypes. There is so much that is original and dramatic that it is not surprising that it has been so successful. The play is a masterpiece of dramatic art and is a masterpiece of dramatic art.

CLAYVILLE MAN SERIOUSLY HURT

Horse Driven by Robert Oroutt Leaped in Front of Car.

BIG WAS OVERTURNED.

Accident Happened Near the Genesee Street Crossing of the West Shore Railroad—Mr. Oroutt Was Strained in Many Places and His Skull Was Fractured.

In an accident at the Genesee street crossing of the West Shore Railroad last evening, Robert Oroutt of Clayville received injuries from which he will probably die. Mr. Oroutt was on his way home, and the rig which he was driving was struck by a Clinton car. Mr. Oroutt is at Faxon Hospital, where he was taken after the accident.

Mr. Oroutt had been to this city on business yesterday. At 8 o'clock last night he started for his home. When he reached the crossing of the railroad, he was struck by a Clinton car. Mr. Oroutt was thrown from the rig and was struck on the head by a piece of iron. He was taken to Faxon Hospital, where he was taken after the accident.
