AGRICULTURAL BRIEFS

was being granted because bottle cap manufacturers were unable to obtain the new machines necessary to turn out the new caps because of prior demands of armament and airplane industry for machine tools...

'A good ration for a brood sow is about half a pound of oats daily, a small amount of some protein supplement, such as tankage or soybeans, a good legume hay and sufficient corn to gain about a pound a day up to farrowing.'

New cooperative marketing problems have arisen during the past few years in the egg and poultry production centers of the country, according to Governor A. G. Black of the Farm Credit Administration...

'The increased importance of poultry production in the northeast,' Mr. Black said, 'was accompanied by the formation or handling of poultry products by nearly 50 cooperative associations in the northeastern states since 1930.'

Agriculture has greater assurance of permanency if it can maintain its soil and raise better crops, according to Dr. George C. Moore of the soil conservation service, United States department of agriculture...

The outstanding symptom of fowl or range paralysis in poultry is disability of a bird's legs, wings or eyesight. This is because the disease affects the nervous system. An affected bird will gradually lose its ability to stand...

Since air in the soil is essential for plant growth, a root zone 3 1/2 to 4 feet deep should be provided for such common farm crop plants as wheat, corn, soy beans and alfalfa...
